Course Description

As Canada becomes an increasingly multiethnic country and demands for the recognition of diversity multiply, the policy of multiculturalism will continue to gain importance within the Canadian polity. This course is intended to introduce students to the study of the practice of multiculturalism in Canada. It will examine how the management of ethnic diversity is integrated into Canadian public policy. As such, it explores the relationship between multiculturalism and public policy areas such as immigration, employment equity, anti-racism, the welfare state, and federal-provincial-municipal relations. Further, it attempts to put Canadian multicultural policy within the perspective of nation-building, English Canadian nationalism, Québécois nationalism, Canadian partisan politics, and globalization.

Course Requirements

Traditional Option
1.) 20% - 2-3 page critical review of a journal article or book chapter chosen from a list provided by the instructor. Due in class on Tuesday, February 25th, 2014.
2.) 45% - 10-12 page research paper on a topic distributed by the instructor. Due in class on Tuesday, March 25th, 2014.
3.) 35% - Final exam, date and time to be announced.

Community Service Learning Option
1.) 20% - 2-3 page critical review of a journal article or book chapter chosen from a list provided by the instructor. Due in class on Tuesday, February 25th, 2014.
2.) 45% - 8-10 page paper which relates class readings and discussions to students’ volunteer experiences at the Open Door Society. Due in class on Tuesday, March 25th, 2014.
3.) 35% - Final exam, date and time to be announced.

Papers should be in hard copy format. E-mailed assignments to the instructor will not be accepted. The Political Studies Department’s policy is that late assignments are penalized 10% per week up to a maximum of 50%. All assignments must be submitted by the day of the final exam or they will be considered incomplete and the student will receive a zero for the assignment. All assignments are due at the beginning of class on the due date and late assignments must be submitted at subsequent classes or the day of the final exam at the very latest. Exceptions may be made, at the instructor's discretion, for students who contact the instructor regarding medical reasons or family emergencies before assignments are due. Documentation will be required in these cases. Please note that computer problems are not considered emergencies, so be sure that the computer you use is in good working order, and that you back up your work on a floppy disc and/or print out rough work and essay drafts.

Concerns about the marking of assignments are welcome. If the student has concerns about the mark that they received for an assignment, they are asked to submit a written memo of a half page to the instructor explaining their concern at the beginning of the class after the assignment has been handed back to the student. The instructor will then report back to the student on their concern.

Plagiarism

The St. Thomas More Faculty Council has adopted the following policy on plagiarism:

“St. Thomas More College follows the rules regarding Academic Dishonesty as delineated in the University of Saskatchewan Calendar. Of these, plagiarism is a particularly serious offence that involves presenting another person’s writing, ideas or creative work as your own. When quoting, paraphrasing, describing, presenting, summarizing or translating the work of others, you must acknowledge the source of the information you use, which includes ensuring that the reader can differentiate between your words and the words of others. Sources may come in print, electronic, digital, visual or oral form, and may be provided by a published author, fellow student, artist, or Internet site. Purchasing papers is not permitted. It is your responsibility to understand what constitutes plagiarism; when in doubt, consult your professor.

It should also be noted that sub-section C of section 2 of the University of Saskatchewan’s Regulations on Student Academic Misconduct defines academic misconduct as: "Using work done in one course in fulfilment of any requirement of another course unless approval is obtained from the instructor by whom the material is being evaluated." As such, you need my permission to use substantial portions of a paper that you have handed into another professor for our class’ final paper.

For further information see www.usask.ca/honesty”

Students with Disabilities
If you are a student who is registered with the Office of Disability Services for Students, you may apply for unique services or arrangements to complete the requirements for this course. Normally, these services will be provided through the DSS office. If you have not yet registered with that office, please do so as quickly as possible.

Required Texts

Readings posted by instructor on PAWS.

* Lectures will heavily discuss the readings in the textbook but they will not summarize or replicate the readings. In class discussions, you will be expected to critically interact with the readings in the textbook and coursepack. Thus, it is imperative for all students to read each of the readings and bring their textbooks and any additional readings assigned that week to class.
